

VACANCY: NUCLEAR MEDICINE PHYSICIAN

Purpose: To be responsible for the reporting of Nuclear Medicine scans, including conventional NM and PET/CT.

Task and Responsibilities

- Produce computer generated images of excellent diagnostic quality
- Accurately record and process the results of a nuclear medicine procedure.
- Be able to trouble shoot, understand and identify malfunctions in equipment and image quality.
- Administer therapeutic radiopharmaceuticals
- Understand and provide appropriate coding and fee structure for relevant isotope studies performed.
- Understand the transfer process through PACS and RIS to ensure a smooth workflow.
- Train and supervise students and colleagues to understand the Nuclear Medicine environment.
- Participate in mandatory training and actively pursue Continuous Professional Development with an up-to-date record.
- Be guided by the appropriate policies and procedures to ensure an orderly and timeous workflow process.
- Share knowledge and work cohesively within a team.
- Be on a rotational roster for daily shifts / venues and after-hours duties.

Core Competencies:

- To demonstrate a high level of competency and understanding of Nuclear Medicine procedures.
- Excellent training skills and ability to train staff at any level.
- Good verbal and written communication.
- Excellent time management, communication and leadership skills.
- Good interpersonal skills and ability to engage with clinicians, patients and staff.
- High regard for safety of patients and colleagues during the injecting and handling of radiopharmaceuticals.

Experience and Qualifications:

- MBChB
- FCNP, MMED.
- Registered with HPCSA.
- CPD compliant.

Internal Interactions

- Radiology colleagues and all LSP staff.
- All venues and departments.
- Hospital staff
- Patients

External Interactions

- Affiliated hospitals and organizations.
- Referring clinicians.
- Radiation Control Board / Drug Council.
- Vendors and technicians.

Closing date:

Interested candidates who meet the requirements are invited to apply by forwarding a comprehensive CV to nicolene.ismail@lakesmit.co.za by close of business on 13 March 2026.